Low Level Twin Towers

"We contacted a number of play equipment companies for our requirements for a tower system for our reception class (4-5 year olds). All other companies recommended off the shelf systems none of which were suitable for our needs, only Outdoorsy asked us what we wanted and came back with a bespoke design, which not only fitted our specification, but also fitted the area in which it was to be installed, without compromise, which was a major factor. As with all schools, budgets are tight and Outdoorsy Living were able to supply and fit within our budget requirements. Right from the initial meeting we were impressed with the commitment and genuine can do attitude. The installation was carried out on time and without fuss, the guys were great and took the time to show and tell the children what they were doing. The children love using the equipment and we love the quality, price and service that we received from Outdoorsy Living. We are so impressed that we are now having them install a trim trail and playground shelter. I am happy to recommend Nigel and his team as I know that whatever your requirement's they will not only fulfil them but exceed them!"

"Outdoorsy Living were very efficient, hardworking and listened to exactly what we needed. We are a very small school and they catered perfectly for our needs and budget. They were always in touch throughout the whole process from after the initial meeting, during the creation of the trim trail, the input of the equipment and afterwards. The care has been fantastic, very personal to the needs of the school and a brilliant final product is now in our field and is being thoroughly enjoyed by all the children. We have ambitions to have more equipment for the children and look forward to working alongside Outdoorsy Living again in the future."

Outdoor Classroom

"We were so pleased with our new Outdoor Classroom from start to finish it was an excellent job. Nigel worked hard on our behalf to obtain the planning and did all the drawings for us. The installation was superb, the guys who did the installation were polite all the time and extremely knowledgeable about the job. They were helpful and nothing was too much trouble. We would certainly recommend Outdoorsy Living."
